DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1 & 2, drawn to an automatic sampler, classified in class 436, subclass 49.
 - II. Claims 3 & 4, drawn to a method of rinsing a needle of an autosampler, classified in class 210, subclass 656.
2. Inventions II and I are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus such as an automatic sampler as the one claimed in patent JP-3142606).

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1709

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

3. During a telephone conversation with David E. Spaw on 06/26/07 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1 & 2. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 3 & 4 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 & 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Goto et al (JP3142606). Goto et al teaches an automatic sampler for injecting a sample into a sample introducing portion in communication to a column of a liquid chromatography ([0001] and Claims 1-3), comprising: A). A needle for sucking the sample from a sample liquid bath and injecting the sample into the sample introducing portion (Claim 3); B). A first rinsing section for rinsing said needle by soaking said needle in a first rinsing liquid, in which the first rinsing liquid is not exchanged during the rinsing operation (Claim 1. Examiner takes the position that because the flow direction of the washing liquid is in the reverse direction, no uptake of the washing solution occurs and therefore, no solution is exchanged) and C). A second rinsing section for rinsing said needle by soaking said needle in a second rinsing liquid, in which the second rinsing liquid is exchanged during the rinsing operation, wherein said needle is rinsed by at least one rinsing section selected from said first rinsing section and said second rinsing section (Claim 2).

6. For Claim 2, Goto et al teaches the automatic sampler according to Claim 1, further comprising a switching section ([0013 & 0015]) the second rinsing liquid for use with said second rinsing section from among a plurality of rinsing liquids ([0012] & Claim 2).
